Jean-Luc Godard
Jean-Luc Godard chose to end life through assisted dying, lawyer confirms
The medical report on death of 91-year-old director said he had chosen to end his life

You're going to start seeing a lot more places legalizing euthenasia once the religious become more entrenched in being the minority. Years of overpopulation and climate change hysteria along with more places adopting socialised medicine means people will be more than happy to get undesirables off the taxpayer's dole and off this planet.

Life oversteps its boundaries, especially in old age. Maybe when you're younger you think you're the shit and you can romanticize your problems or frame it as a heroic narrative, but that's when you know that the person hasn't really ever been through some truly rotten shit. Not anyone's fault in particular they had easier or harder circumstances to deal with, but the former would do well to keep their mouth shut on the topic and feel grateful for their blessings.
